„Digitale Heimat Paderborn – unsere digitale Heimat“ in English „Digital home Paderborn - our digital home.“ The idea behind the project is to connect all generations dying living in the city with the "new" ones of digitization. Furthermore, young and old people should be taken away from the fear of dealing with the advancing digitization. The advantages of digitization, especially for the home town of Paderborn, should be communicated and further promoted.

- The IT location PB has a long tradition and is continuing its success story: "PB already adjusted to digital value creation with the work of Heinz Nixdorf. The more than 300 IT companies with a good 10,000 jobs, the strong cooperation between business, science and politics (e.g. in the top cluster it's OWL) as well as the highest university spin-off rates form a foundation for digital change".
